Welcome to The Skeptic, the UK's foremost and longest-running skeptical magazine, devoted to a skeptical and irreverent look at claims of the paranormal and pseudo-science. Just some of the topics covered: UFOs, alien abductions, ghosts, the 'New Age', alternative medicine, miraculous healing, astrology, cults, cold fusion, crop circles, crystals, mediums, the Turin Shroud, Earth mysteries, psychic detectives, magic, the occult... the list is almost endless!

The Skeptic, a quarterly magazine founded in 1987, includes news, comment, investigations, feature articles, columns, humour, reviews of books and events, and much more. Issues have included articles by Richard Wiseman, Susan Blackmore, Simon Hoggart, Rupert Sheldrake, Mark Vernon, Julian Baggini, James Randi and many others.

The magazine also receives backing from an international Editorial Advisory Board of individuals recognised to be experts in their fields, including: James Randi, Richard Dawkins, Stephen Fry, Derren Brown, Brian Cox, Tim Minchin, Elizabeth Loftus, P.Z. Myers, Simon Singh, Charles Paxton, Susan Blackmore, Ray Hyman and David Colquhoun, to name but some.

To receive The Skeptic, you should either subscribe or purchase individual back issues at a slightly increased cost. It is possible to order one free sample issue (without obligation).
